Webinar on Mongo DB

The Computer Science and Engineering department had organized a one day webinar on "Mongo DB". The webinar was started on 21th September 2021 at the time sharp 7:00 pm. The entire students from C.S.E. department were participated for this webinar. The outcome of this webinar was that, all the students of department got understood the concepts of Mongo DB thoroughly.

For this webinar we got speaker Dr. Rajendra S. Patil from National University of Singapore, Singapore. Webinar conducted on Google Meet application. He told that more information about Mongo DB is, "MongoDB is a document-oriented NoSQL database used for high volume data storage. Instead of using tables and rows as in the traditional relational databases, MongoDB makes use of collections and documents. Documents consist of key-value pairs which are the basic unit of data in MongoDB".
